

The Hague Data Science Initiative

Social Media Name Change

1 June 2019

Hackathon for Peace, Security, and Justice is nearly here and we are excited that once again, we will be hosting teams from all over the country to tackle challenges set forth by UNICRI, Translators without Borders, Red Cross and more. The second edition of this Hackathon is organised by not just an organisation, but an initiative, The Hague Data Science Initiative. We believe that the advancement of data science to create a better world is a movement and an initiative. We have been blessed with the support of the city of The Hague and other partners such as The Hague Tech (hosting partner) and more to bring this initiative to life.

About Social Media

We invite all participants and interested parties to join our initiative using social media and engage with each other to create a constructive community of data scientists, hackers, engineers, and entrepreneurs. We are present on four social media platforms: Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and LinkedIn.

Online Identity

Our initiative has been evolving over the last year and when our social media accounts were setup, we used the name TheHagueData which was deliberately vague in order to leave space for minor adjustments in future. It must be noted that as of this release, we will be renaming all our social media accounts & usernames to create a consistent online identity for the initiative.

New Name: Data Science Initiative (The Hague)

New Username: DSitheague

Please note that this change is in line with our branding guidelines present and downloadable at datascienceinitiative.eu/brandmanual/

If there are any questions regarding this matter, please feel free to contact our communication team via andre@datascienceinitiative.eu